

I understand low power FM stations are being considered to take priority over FM translator services. I oppose this move. My family listens to K-LOVE Christian radio. K-LOVE offers the only Christian broadcasting in the area on FM. Including the Christian AM stations, it is the only station with its format. K-LOVE offers Hampton Roads listeners the only FM Christian station with a contemporary music format. This is the ONLY FM station I KNOW I can allow my children to hear without worrying about the content (it's not offensive, vulgar, or crude). Giving LPFM programming priority over FM translator service would likely replace K-LOVE with yet another secular station...something found everywhere else on the FM dial. Maintaining the current rules for FM translator service will guarantee a more diverse presentation of music. Further, K-LOVE provides hourly news that is covered from a Christian perspective...something not found anywhere else on the FM dial. Finally, the K-LOVE event calendar addresses large Christian happenings across the nation, including the Hampton Roads area. This is not a service available on other stations. Please do not change the rules to give priority to LPFM broadcasts.
